Erection of a Panelized Home

TECHNOLOGY

Eagle's Nest combines the old with the new. It constructs to old-fashioned standards, not minimum code standards. Our homes will withstand the test of time. We use no oriented strand-board or particleboard.

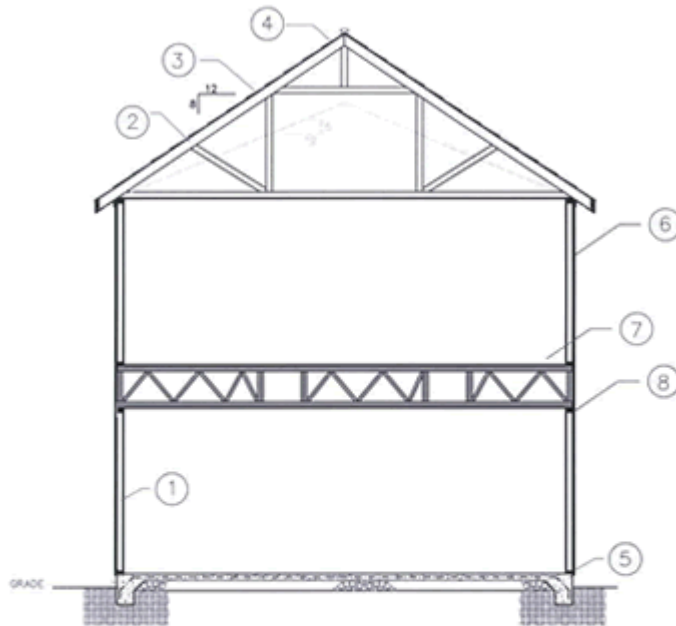

SPACIOUSNESS

The unique pedestal construction of the round Eagle's Nest Home eliminates the need for load bearing walls, so your interior design is open and spacious – around you and above you. The upper level is cantilevered above the lower level, and beyond that is the airiness of a cathedral ceiling. The round Eagle's Nest Home allows for freedom of movement, freedom of design and freedom to live unencumbered in typical "box like" rooms. Summertime or wintertime...the living is easy!

QUALITY

All materials used in the construction of the Eagle's Nest Home are of the highest quality, to assure you a lifetime of comfortable living with a minimum of maintenance requirements. Construction is to exacting specifications, utilizing quality craftsmanship and high-tech design inside and out. No other custom design house offers you so much for so little.

At a time when utility rates are soaring, your Eagle's Nest Home can be a virtual energy miser with optional high "R" value insulation, thermopane windows and fully insulated exterior doors. The roundhouse pagoda roof has an excellent ventilation system allowing the house to "breathe" properly and maintain effective air circulation year-round. You can live in luxury, while maintaining economy in your utility bills.

Here is a house with dignity, beauty and value. The way you envisioned your dream house to be and best of all its affordable! Custom built on your lot, it can be completely finished inside and out, or if you prefer, the opportunity to design and complete your own interior. You have a choice of floor plans and options with the flexibility to add on at any time.
